

VATICAN URGED HARDING TO PAY GERMAN DEBT

Rome, Aug. 4 (AP).—Vatican circles recall that soon after the election of the late President Harding, Senator McCall McCormick came to Europe on what was said to be a semi-official mission from the new chief executive.

The senator was received by Pope Benedict and had several conversations with Cardinal Gasparri, Papal Secretary of State. He later communicated to Mr. McCormick the Vatican's viewpoint on solutions of the various questions arising from the war.

Referring to reparations and the inter-allied debts, Cardinal Gasparri said the Holy See believed that the best solution of these problems was to have only one creditor and only one debtor. America, he added, should be the only creditor after having paid the debts of the other countries, Germany becoming a debtor only to America.

The United States, Senator McCormick is understood to have been informed, should also have made to Germany such conditions as would make possible the repayment of her debts.

Senator McCormick was asked to bring such a plan to the attention of President Harding, but the Vatican is said never to have heard of it since. It is believed that Cardinal Gasparri still adheres to the plan, although he admits that under present conditions it would be more difficult to carry out.

SOCIETY BEAUTY TO MARRY LYNN MAN

The engagement of Miss Bella Brick, twenty-two years old, Buffalo society beauty, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Brick of Buffalo, N. Y., to Benjamin Gregory Skipton, twenty-four years old, 2637 Harvard street, Lynn, will be announced at a reception at the home of Mr. Skipton tomorrow evening.

Miss Bella Brick, Skipton tomorrow evening. Miss Brick recently was awarded first prize in a Buffalo society beauty contest. Mr. Skipton, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Skipton, is a "traveler" expert, employed by the United States Investor. He met Miss Brick in a Buffalo hotel, where he recovered Miss Brick's lost purse, and then accepted an invitation to call at her home. The wedding will take place in the Fall.

PARENTS OF DROWNED CHILD MISSING

Douglas (Gard), two and a half years old, No. 2144 Charter street, North End, was drowned when he fell from the wharf at the playground in North End Park.

Parents, attracted by the child's screams, took him to the shore and administered artificial respiration. Doctor took him to the Haymarket Police station, where Dr. John had labored over the boy with a pump-injector in vain. Police have been unable to reach who the boy's parents are.

Love Suit Loser

MISS LUDLOW VONSLATSKY.

The Russian woman, claiming to be the legal wife of A. A. Von Vatslavsky, who introduced a Chicago divorce, loses her suit. Her own letters were held a bar to the action.

'RUSSIAN' WIFE LOSES SUIT FOR ALIMONY

New York, Aug. 4.—Miss Ludlow Vonslavsky, who came here from Russia in an effort to prove she was the legal wife of Anatole Andreievich Vonslavsky, lost her suit for alimony. The court found that the plaintiff's own letters, written by her to her husband, proved that she was not his wife.

The court held it was unnecessary to consider the hearing of the possible legality of the marriage between Vonslavsky and Vonslavsky, because the letters of the plaintiff to the defendant, prior to the marriage, apparently constituted, on familiar principles, a bar to the prosecution of this action.

BOY, HIT BY TRUCK, SUFFERS SCALP CUT

Robert Grieson, five years old, No. 53 Emerald street, South End, was struck in front of his home by a truck owned by the Gulf Refining Company and operated by Lemuel P. Washington of No. 18 Cottage street, South End. The boy was taken to the Lincoln House Dispensary on Emerald street, suffering from a lacerated scalp.

$1,000 Dorchester Fire

Fire of unknown origin caused $1,000 damage in the plant of the George L. Grieson Company, manufacturer of barbed wire, No. 27 Van Hatten street, Dorchester.

BOYS IN STOLEN AUTO CAUGHT AFTER CHASE

Carl J. M. Pearson, 18 years old, No. 27 Grant street, Cambridge, and William Brock, 15 years old, 100 Austin place, Cambridge, were arrested by Back Bay police after an exciting chase in the Back Bay district, charged with the theft of a Buick sedan in Cambridge. The arrest was made 30 minutes after the theft.

The car was that of William J. Pearson, No. 28 Daguerre avenue, Weymouth, which had been parked in the street.

Mounted Detective Martin J. F. Kelly, who had been following the car, saw the boys and called them to the Back Bay station, where they were held as delinquents.

PELLETIER ON WAY TO K. OF C. CONVENTION

James District Attorney Joseph C. Pelletier, who for many years has been a member of the Knights of Columbus, and a prominent figure in all of the national conventions, will leave for his home in Rhode Island on Monday, in time for the start of the convention.

Following the proceedings before the Supreme Court in connection with the removal of the former Suffolk district attorney from office and his subsequent disbarment, he resigned his office as supreme advocate, an office which pertained him a handsome honorarium.

He sailed for Europe in quest of health in November, 1922.

FOUR ARRESTS BALK PROVIDENCE HOLDUP

Providence, Aug. 4.—The police believe they frustrated a paymaster holdup here in the arrest of four men in a Maryland automobile. The police seized three loaded revolvers and two flashlights hidden in their car.

One suspect and a companion were arrested in a Massachusetts automobile in Exchange place. A revolver and six cartridges were found by the police.

The other three were Baltimore addresses. Photographs and finger prints of the four were made and forwarded to the Baltimore police.

They gave their names as Anthony L. P. Gaskin, 26, and Louis E. P. Gaskin, 26, and Louis E. P. Gaskin, 26, and Louis E. P. Gaskin, 26.

Revere, Mass., was also arrested. A revolver and liquor were found in his car.

MILES OF GARDEN ROAD ON DELIGHTFUL NORTH SHORE AUTO TOUR

TURNPIKE OVER HILL AND DALE

Ocean and Country Scenes for the Motorist Who Seeks Relaxation

By H. E. CASEY.

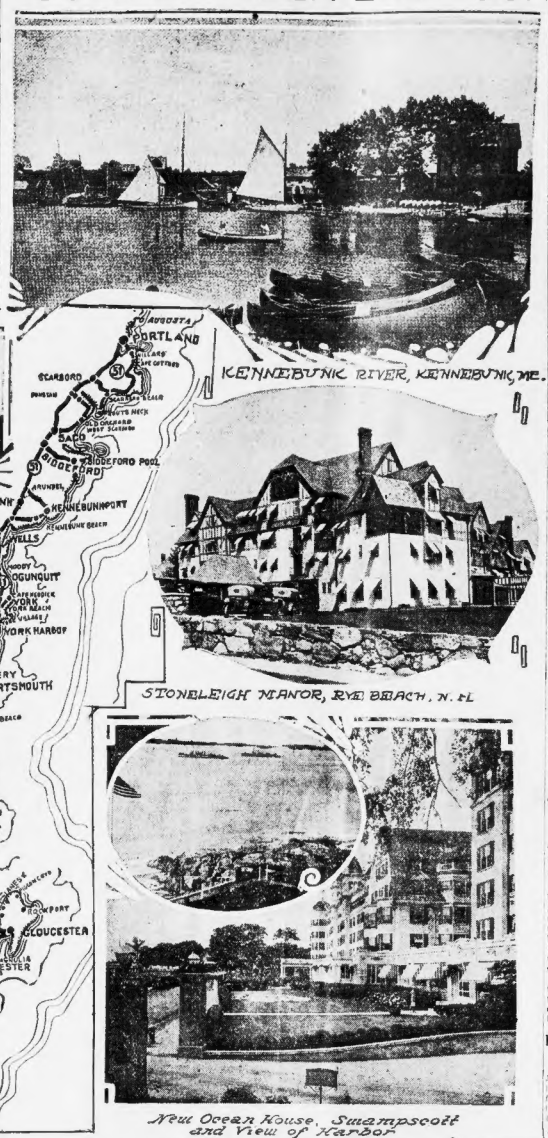

This week's weekend auto tour can be made via Newburyport Turnpike, a polished four road for miles and miles over from the windows on the garden side.

Cross railroad, bear left down grade passing Manchester Town Hill on right. Turn left on Union street. Turn right at top of hill and left on summer street, following marked posts on road to Ipswich. Ipswich—End of summer, bear left into Bowley. Keep straight ahead on main road to Parker River bridge, passing Paradise Auto Inn on the right. Cross bridge through Newbury to Newburyport, turn to State street at square and left on Merrimack street. Turn right, crossing bridge to fork in road. Bear right hill and dale, viewing nature's most picturesque product, or via Marblehead, where you see the ocean breaking over the massive cliffs, sending its spray high into the air.

ROUTE OF WEEK-END TOUR

Not only is the coast remarkable for its harbors and bays, but it is the most beautiful on the Atlantic and has every variety of coastal features, including sandy beaches of unequalled softness and lengthy rock promontories and islands with our number.

The ocean drive through Swampscott and from Hampton beach to Portsmouth alone is worth the trip, viewing the many beautiful estates. The Ocean House at Swampscott, the Waterbury at Portsmouth and the Stoneleigh Manor at Rye Beach are along this route.

All roads are perfect in Portsmouth until you enter Kittery. Then the roads are fair via York, Maine, Kennebunk, Biddeford to Portland. You will find a few spots where repairs are being made, but nothing to interrupt the trip. The best part of the trip is from Boston to Portsmouth.

ROUTE THROUGH SWAMPSCOTT Starting at Brunswick Hotel down Cape Cod street, in Swampscott, across a broad center and to the left to Highway and Rye Beach, Biddeford.

At Portsmouth, turn left to Rye Beach, through Main to Newburyport Turnpike of course. Continue on from Lynn, following trolley to fork in road, then bear right to shore boulevard, right to Swampscott.

Midway between Lynn and Salem on the state highway, where through traffic and from the North Shore, you will see the Stoneleigh Manor, which gives pleasure and plenty to the vast number of people who come down this road.

Stoneleigh is devoted to serving the tourist with food and service and is the best of Rye Beach, where the Stoneleigh Manor has been built. The hotel is one of the finest in the world. From the time you enter, individual attention is given to every need. The second floor is the "Main Room" room where you can sit and enjoy the view of the ocean. The third floor is the "Main Room" room where you can sit and enjoy the view of the ocean. The third floor is the "Main Room" room where you can sit and enjoy the view of the ocean.

Swampscott is considered one of the most beautiful spots on the North Shore. Here, facing the wide expanse of Massachusetts Bay and from a point a short distance from the beach, stands the New Ocean House, a beautiful building with a tower and a wide veranda, where you can sit and enjoy the view of the ocean.

The main hotel is a substantial five-story structure. The annex is a seven-story building with a tower and a wide veranda, where you can sit and enjoy the view of the ocean. FISHING AND EASY TO GET THERE Probably no section of New England has brought larger measure of fame as a fishing resort than that about the Hangeley Lakes. For years it has been the mecca of fishermen and today the Hangeley Lakes have a larger number of delighted and regular visitors than at any previous period in their history.

The sport is fine, the scenery is better and above all the whole idea is really so accessible either by rail or automobile.

The Hangeley Lakes are stretched out in a series of waterways many square miles in area, about fifty miles in length and from twelve to fifteen hundred feet above sea level.

There are really four lakes, though there are six in name. Between the lakes are highly developed "barrens" ranging from a few hundred feet to four or five thousand feet.

Over the longer "barrens" comfort auto vehicles are provided to transport the traveler.

The eastern end of the chain of Hangeley Lakes touches on a comparatively settled community with considerable farm land and a thriving village, westward the land is forested and wild with only a few farms and camps, while the extreme western shore is bordered by primeval forest.

The shores of some of the lakes rise gradually to high hills, but many a sandy beach offers a fine canoe landing and fishing beach.

Two magnificent game fish, brook trout and lake trout, are found here. Northern in America, they are much sought after by anglers.

These are the genuine "Salmon Trout" and "Lake Trout" and are found here. Northern in America, they are much sought after by anglers.

WHERE TO GO TO GET SOME FISH

Unhatched Lake, the lowest in altitude and the largest of the group.

Throughout the whole region are scattered comfortable hotels and camps that cater to the tourist and fisherman. A few of the more popular of these are The Hangeley Lakes House on the shores of the lake from which it takes its name; Pick Hotel, Camp, Minor Springs, Pick Hotel, The Thicket and Bessie Camp, Bald Mountain Camp, Upper Dan House, Lakewood and Lakeview hotels.

Besides the private camps there are acres of unoccupied land and the real woodland can pitch his own tent.

The President's Sad Death
The New President
Problems of 1924
Mr. Coolidge's Task
By Arthur Brisbane

President Harding's sudden death comes at a moment when the whole nation is being comforted by news of his improved condition and almost certain recovery.

The first thought is one of sympathy for the President's widow, the devoted wife, by whose side and with whose help he found life serene and his apoplexy.

NEXT COMES thought of the national loss. President Harding was a typical, conventional American citizen, devoted to his duty, anxious for the public welfare and unselfish in seeking it.

He goes to his grave with the respect and affection of the whole people. Those that opposed some of his policies will be first to recognize the sincerity of those policies, and the President's single-mindedness.

MR. COOLIDGE, who succeeds President Harding as chief magistrate, is known to the nation as a soundly conservative man. He is best known, nationally, through his handling as governor of a policeman's strike in Boston.

The new President is credited with having shown courage, promptness and vigor on that occasion, disposing without hesitation of measures that could not for a moment be tolerated.

As between the so-called "right" of policemen to organize a union and go on strike, the right of the citizen to protection, Mr. Coolidge evidently did not hesitate.

The quality that enabled him to act promptly and vigorously on that occasion, he will find useful in the work that lies ahead in the White House.

President Harding's death has cast into utter confusion all political plans and predictions for the future, and for the contest of 1924.

Had President Harding lived, there was no doubt or question as to his re-election.

The only uncertainty dealt with the name and chances of the Democrat to be named against him, and of any number of independent, including Henry Ford.

NOW, EVERYTHING is completely changed. The Republican convention, apparently, will be a free-for-all struggle with Mr. Coolidge, the new President, starting out with the advantage of the administration machine, which is powerful, and may well be put into good working order between now and the date of the convention.

CONSPICIOUS AMONG those whose names are put forward by the Republican nomination are Hiram Johnson, Senator Borah and La Follette.

These three people have been mentioned by Mr. Coolidge, who will also probably be included among the candidates. There will be a great deal of dark horse, known and unknown to the public—chiefly unknown, although those dark horses do not suspect it.

AS REGARDS the immediate course of the new administration, it is safe to predict that like the late Theodore Roosevelt, succeeding McKinley, Mr. Coolidge will announce a determination to carry on his predecessor's policies practically unchanged. It may be that Mr. Coolidge will find, as did Theodore Roosevelt, conditions making it necessary to modify that announcement.

MR. COOLIDGE has played a modest, retiring part as Vice-President, attending his duties in the Senate, making little effort to promote judgment or influence public opinion on the outstanding national and international problems.

The public is not well acquainted with his views, but will know more undoubtedly before many days shall have passed.

The interesting question is: Whom will the Republican party select as its candidate to succeed Mr. Coolidge?

Available and able candidates can be found in President Harding's administration. In Attorney General Daugherty the people would find a fighter who has made enemies everywhere he went.

In Mr. Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury, the Republicans and the people at large would find the man who understands as well as any American living the business, industrial and financial problems of the United States.

These problems are 90 per cent. of the United States problems now.

The Concord Junction Union baseball team won at the expense of the Anasab Athletic Club nine of Madison, N. J., last night.

OH MR. GALLAGHER, OH MR. GALLAGHER!
I KNOW A MAN WHO'S NAME IS SAMMIE BROWN.

HE'S SO HANDSOME THAT IT HAINS,
HE'S A RIOT WITH THE JANES,
HE HAS A SWEETIE IN

A cartoon illustration of a man in a tuxedo and a woman in a dress standing in front of a sign that reads "EACH PART OF TOWN". The man is on the left, wearing a white shirt, a large black bow tie, and a white jacket. He has a surprised expression with his mouth open. The woman is on the right, wearing a black dress and a white collar. She is holding a cigarette in her right hand and looking at the man. The sign above them is a simple rectangular board with the words "EACH PART OF TOWN" written in capital letters. The background is a plain, light-colored wall.

OH MR. SHEAN, OH MR. SHEAN!
HE TAKES 'EM RIDING IN HIS NEW MACHINE!

SHE WAS WALKING,
MR. SHEAN!

WATCH OUT MOLA
A rapid response to the American tennis world was made by the quality of British women a few hours after they stepped off the boat. Mola may be in for it.

BOY WHO MADE LAKE ERIE SWIM OUT TO CROSS CHANNEL

WALKER OUT FOR MORE HONORS

Carbis A. Walker, youthful Cleveland swimmer, is the first person to swim across Lake Erie. On August 2, he swam from Point Pelee, Canada, to Lorain, O., a distance of thirty miles. In the following story, written exclusively for the Sporting American News Service, he tells of his experiences during the ordeal and asserts he will try to swim the Longfellow Channel this fall, a feat never accomplished by an American—Editor

By CARBIS A. WALKER
Cleveland, Ohio

Everybody kept telling me I could do it and I got to thinking myself that way, and one part of it was pure luck. The weather, the calmness of the lake, even if toward midnight, a slight breeze made the water slightly rolling.

The first ten or twelve miles were the hardest so to speak. After I had got my third or fourth wind, swimming was simply mechanical.

I used the standard stroke, through the water, and I had short strokes and I had long strokes. I had short strokes and I had long strokes.
